Joelmare

Greek tanker Joelmare belonging to Dynacom Tankers Management Ltd took time out to recharge at Jurong Shipyard in the month of February 2010.

Measuring 228.00m x 32.20m x 19.60m, the 71,055 dwt oil tanker underwent a list of jobs, including water ballast tanks steel renewal, pump room's diesel oil tank new piping installations, pressure vacuum valves overhauling, and routine hull cleaning, blasting and painting.

Before the vessel set off in the same month, the yard also relocated the radio antenna mast, overhauled the sea valves, ballast pumps and inert gas fans as well as conducted lifeboat testing to ensure that safety requirements were met.
