They are part of a three vessel order for Samsung with the third due to be delivered in the first quarter of 2006.

All four ships are owned by Norway's Viken Shipping and leased to Stasco under bareboat charters.

Nasdaq-listed Greek owner Castor Maritime has entered the tanker sector with the acquisition of two 2005-built Korean aframax tankers for $27.2m.

Castor says the vessels come attached with charter contacts with around one year remaining at $15,000 per day charter hire, and a profit sharing arrangement. The charterer also has the option to extend for an additional one-year term.

The tankers have recently completed their special surveys and are equipped with ballast water treatment systems.

Castor did not reveal the identity of the vessels or the seller, however data from VesselsValue indicates the pair are likely Dubai Navigation's Dubai Harmony and Dubai Hope.

Hot on the heels of a lucrative deal for a veteran tanker Nasdaq-listed tanker and LPG owner Toro has offloaded two more elderly Aframax LR2 ships at a profit of nearly $43m.

The spinoff of Cyprus-based Castor Maritime has sold the 2005-built Wonder Polaris for $34.5m and the 2006-built Wonder Bellatrix for $37m to undisclosed third-party buyers.

The Petros Panagiotidis-led company expects to conclude the sale in the second quarter and score a net gain on both ships of approximately $42.9m, excluding any transaction-related costs.

Castor bought the Wonder Polaris formerly known as Dubai Harmony from Dubai Navigation for $13.60m in February 2021 and the Bellatrix ex-Agnetta Pallas from Energifonden Sverige for $18.15m in December same year.
