GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:

2003:

Euroceanica is said to be in the process of clearing out its three suezmax tanker newbuildings.

Sources suggest that the 159,000-dwt Euro Sea and Euro Spirit (both built 2003) are in the process of being sold to a Greek buyer, possibly Dynacom, for $52.5m.

The ships are among six suezmax tankers that the Italian-backed company ordered with the Mondini family at the Samsung yard in Korea in 2000 for about $43m each.

ABN Amro's Greek desk has closed a $40 million 10 year loan facility for Dynacom suezmax Euro Sky. Dynacom purchased the 171,000dwt vessel, which they have since renamed SUMMER SKY, for $53 million.

NATS buys buck trend

Analysts are split in their views over a suezmax player's expensive purchases.

While it is easy to see what moved Dynacom chief George Procopiou in his sale of three suezmaxes to publicly listed Nordic American Tanker Shipping (NATS), it may be tougher for some to fathom the logic of NATS boss Herbjorn Hansson.

Procopiou is pocketing a profit of about $90m from the $246m deal to sell the 150,000-dwt Glyfada Spirit, Calm Sea (both built 2003) and Summer Sky (built 2002).
